NEW YORK—The death of to co-star in a TV series, but Bill Bendix, which saddened the network canceled with everyone who knew him, the explanation that Bill's means the end of a multi-million dollar lawsuit he had to fulfill his contract. Unfiled against CBS. Bill and Martha Raye were scheduled but Bill's lawyers instituted a suit claiming he was in good health and the CBS statement had caused him to lose jobs.

Now that "Synanon House" has been filmed by Columbia Pictures, and "Junkie Priest" looks like a good bet for a movie treatment, the Hollywood studios will be soon looking into the incredible story of Dr. Robert Baird. He's the fearless doctor of East Harlem whose saga is more amazing than the other two put together; his explosive book, "Narcoticsville," will be a best-seller.
